DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

> The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 27-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. These newly introduced claims contain a limitation excluding a vessel utilizing a substance other than pure water between UV exposure means and the washing vessel. This limitation is not supported by the original disclosure.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 17-20 and 27-30 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,651,680. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims of the patent is inside of the scope of the claims of the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 17-20 and 27-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 63-271,938 in view of Takayama et al (US Patent No 5,071,488).

JP 63-271,938 teaches an apparatus and a method for cleaning substrates as claimed. See entire reference (English translation is provided), especially pages 6-11 of the translation.

JP 63-271,938 discloses ultrasonic washing vessel and UV exposure means, which utilize the wavelength as claimed.

JP 63-271,938 does not specifically recites the use of a cassette for immersing the glass substrates into the vessel.

However, the use of cassettes for immersing the substrates in the treatment vessels was conventional in the art, as evidenced by Takayama et al. See entire document, even the disclosure of the prior art.

It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time the invention was made to use a cassette in the apparatus and the method of JP 63-271,938 with reasonable expectation of adequate results in order to increase the efficiency of the apparatus by allowing simultaneous immersing treatment of multiple substrates hold in the cassette.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 11/12/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicants argue that the double patenting rejection is not proper because claims of the patent recite some additional structure, which is not recited by the claims of the instant application. This is not persuasive because the scope of the claims of the patent is inside of the scope of the claims of the instant application.

The applicants make unsupported statement that, according to them, Takayama et al is not believed to remedy the teaching of Shindo.

The applicants failed to provide any reasoning or discussion to support their position. An unsupported statement is not persuasive.

With respect to the newly presented claims the applicants argue that prior art teaches the use of other chemistries. This is not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the prior art teaches the use of other chemistries except of pure water, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
